Notice regarding Westnet

Westnet

Those of you with a Westnet email address may have seen a message in your inbox regarding Westnet's upcoming move to The Messaging Company following their parent company TPG Telecom's announcement they'll be closing their email service.

What this means for you:

If you use a TPG, iinet, internode or Westnet email address, you'll need to back up your emails and import them to another host like Outlook or Gmail - this means you'll have to make a new email address. Your second option is to follow TPG, iinet, internode or Westnet's steps to transfer your email over to their new host The Messaging Company. The messaging company is a paid service - TPG has pledged to pay for twelve months of service when customers transfer to The Messaging Company, but you'll need to pay by September 2024.

If you wish to transfer to The Messaging Company, the steps are below:

1. Go to The Messaging Company website at: <https://register.themessagingco.com.au/westnet> and click TRANSFER.
2. Enter your Westnet email address.
3. The Messaging Company will send a unique PIN to the email address provided. This PIN will expire after 60 minutes. Promptly enter this PIN on The Messaging Company website to authorise your signup. Important: Do not share this PIN with anyone.
4. You will need to enter your name and contact number, then accept the Transfer from Westnet and the Terms of Service & Privacy Policy.
5. Your email address is now on standby to move to The Messaging Company. You can keep using your Westnet email address as usual in the meantime.

6. You will receive a reminder via email before your Westnet email address will be transferred to The Messaging Company. After transferring, you may be required to create a new password for your email address.
7. If you have any issues with your Westnet email address after moving to The Messaging Company, you will need to contact The Messaging Company for support as Westnet will no longer be able to assist.

What happens if I don't choose to keep my email address?

- You don't need to do anything if you're happy for your Westnet email address to be deleted.
- If you do not move to The Messaging Company before the date advised in the notice emailed to you, your Westnet email address will be suspended and you will no longer be able to send or receive emails.

Once suspended, if you do not choose to move your Westnet email address to The Messaging Company, the following will apply:

- The email address will be deleted from 30th November 2023 and can no longer be recovered.
- Any email forwarding to or from your Westnet email address will stop.
- You won't be able to access any existing emails stored on the Westnet mail server.
- Any messages sent to your Westnet email address will bounce back to the sender as undeliverable.

If you use your Westnet email address as the contact email address for your Westnet account, please update your contact details to a different email address in MyAccount.

Can I recover my email address after it is suspended?

Suspended email addresses must be unsuspended before you can opt-in to be moved to the Messaging Company email platform. Unsuspension can be completed by contacting us on 1300 937 863. Once unsuspended, please follow these steps. This recovery process will be available until 30th November 2023. After 30th November 2023, suspended email addresses will be deleted and can no longer be recovered.

As always, please make an appointment to see me at the WCRC if you have any questions or concerns, please make sure you do so before the changeover date to give me plenty of time to assist with the swap.

Menstruation Workshop

I am so grateful to the eight women who came to the Menstrual Intimacy Workshop Friday 18th. It was so beautiful to sit in a circle with women of all ages, with such a diversity of experience in all things, including being a woman.

For me it was such a pleasure and a privilege to shine a light on a perspective of the menstrual cycle that is ancient and yet relatively unknown by the majority of women today. Unknown and yet deeply felt, as there was not one woman in the room who did not resonate with the information that they received.

When we talked about the tones of the internal seasons that they experience every month throughout their cycles, each woman could relate to each season and realise that without knowing this, they were already tuning into the truth of it. There is something incredibly powerful when women realise that not only is their natural instinct valid but has been written about and talked about all over the world.

Even more powerful, when having received that validation and further knowledge, they can begin to develop a deeper relationship with their cycle in order to enhance their lives and the lives of all those around them.

A deep relationship with your menstrual cycle is not just about improving symptoms that can be experienced at menstruation, although it has been known to have that benefit for some. It is not just about rewriting the story of menstruation and finally experiencing the beautiful wash of oxytocin that is available to you at that time. It is also about developing an understanding of you - your changing mood, needs, energy levels and capacity to focus throughout the seasons of your cycle, so that you can start to serve your needs in a nurturing and nourishing way. As this clarity increases with each cycle, so too will your connection to your passion and purpose in life, while your cycle gradually guides you ever nearer to achieving it.

Wild Power tells a radical new story about feminine power, revealing:

- Your inner architecture and the path to power that is encoded in your body
- How to tune in to the rhythm and changes of your menstrual cycle to realise the fullness and beauty of your authority

- Three 'maps' to guide you through the energies, tasks and challenges presented as you journey through each cycle
- How to work with your Inner Seasons to pace your energy, calm your nervous system and gain insight into your overall wellbeing
- How to work with your cycle to channel spiritual forces, affirm your expression in the world and achieve a deep sense of belonging

Winter (Menstruation): Just as winter is a time of introspection, stillness, and shedding in nature, menstruation is seen as a period of rest and renewal. It's a time to turn inward, reflect, and release what is no longer needed - similar to how trees shed their leaves and nature rests during the winter months.

Spring (Follicular Phase):

The follicular phase of the menstrual cycle is likened to spring, a time of new beginnings, growth, and vitality in nature, the follicular phase brings a sense of renewal and fresh energy. Estrogen levels rise, symbolising the emergence of creative ideas and new possibilities, much like the blossoming of flowers and the greening of landscapes.

Summer (Ovulation):

Ovulation is compared to the season of summer, a time of abundance, warmth, and expansion in nature. Ovulation marks the peak of fertility, when an egg is released and the body's energy is at its highest. This phase is associated with increased confidence, social interaction, and a sense of being "in bloom", similar to the fullness of summer.

Autumn (Luteal Phase):

The luteal phase is metaphorically linked to autumn., a time of harvesting, preparation, and winding down in nature, the luteal phase is a time of introspection and reflection. Progesterone levels rise, bringing a sense of nurturing and grounding energy. This phase encourages slowing down and turning inward, as the body prepares for a potential pregnancy or the shedding of the uterine lining.

If you would like to know more, I have an 8 week online programme available which helps you to deep dive into each season, gives you practices to help you harness the powers with each season, takes an in-depth look into the transition phases, and alchemical processes which will help you turn your inner critic into your greater ally. BAITING TO PROTECT NATIVE WILDLIFE

Under the Parks and Wildlife Service's Western Shield program, baiting to control foxes and feral cats occurs on more than three million hectares of conservation lands in Western Australia.

The baits used are toxic to introduced animals but not to native animals which have an evolved tolerance to the active compound (1080). All baited areas are signposted.

Baiting occurs on a regular and ongoing basis to protect endangered native animals including the numbat, western ground parrot and western swamp tortoise.

Attention pet owners: these baits will kill domestic dogs and cats. Baited areas must be considered dangerous for pet dogs and cats at all times.

For more information and maps on areas baited under Western Shield visit dbca.wa.gov.au/westernshield or contact your local Parks and Wildlife Service district office.

Nature Notes: Blackbutt (Eucalyptus patens)

Blackbutt or yarri as the Noongar people call it, is one of the six Western Australian forest giants. It is not related to the trees of the same name in the eastern states. It grows mostly in the valleys in more favourable valley soils. It is an extremely hard wood and difficult to work but has decorative features and so is sometimes used in furniture making.

Unfortunately, as this is a tree that grows with jarrah forest on better soils and where farming is viable, many were cleared since European settlement. Jarrah, wandoo and marri still exist on higher ridges but many places have been cleared for farming.

Blackbutt is a member of the Myrtaceae family and is found around Walpole. It has rough bark on the trunk and branches and has lance-shaped leaves, distinct oval fruit and creamy white flowers. It may grow to a height of 45m with a diameter of 1.8m in favourable conditions but will be smaller in poorer soils. The bark is thick and corky and has longitudinal furrows. It is grey on the outside with a yellow tinge on the inside surface.

Flowering is in July and August or in November and February. The flowers attract many birds and insects. Rosellas, ringneck parrots and honeyeaters are often observed feeding on the nectar during the flowering seasons. The rough bark provides homes for insects which are sought out by birds and other hunters that hop along the branches. The grey honeyeater also favours this tree for finding insects. Blackbutt likes gravelly soils with sandy clay or loam. It is called blackbutt because the trunk is often blackened by fire. It is extremely dangerous in fires as it sheds many embers. As a eucalypt it benefits from fire in gaining space for new plants. It may grow in groups and the young saplings are well adapted, with broader leaves which face upwards in order to obtain light. As the tree grows it forms the downward hanging leaves typical of the eucalypt family. This plant is mostly found in the Peel, Southwest and Great Southern regions. It can be found as far north as the Avon River.

Has the weather finally found spring? I hope so! A magnificent day for golf saw Graham Becker win the day from Glen Burton and three others all on the same score, well done Graham. The golf course is finally drying out and is looking a treat.

The football has finished the regular season with a sad end to three superstars: Shannon Hurn, Luke Shuey and the mighty Nic Naitanui who is one of the greatest ruckmen I have ever seen and has the aura about him to get people to come and watch our magnificent game. We look forward to next year.

But what about the Dockers? They promised so much, goes to show you never know what will happen; the Dockers are only one premiership behind St Kilda who have been in the competition forever.

It is very hard to win that final day of the year, so I say, GO THE SAINTS!!!!

Invitation for Public Comment

Local Planning Policy No. 18 provides guidance for the establishment of tourism land uses in the Residential Zone.

The draft revised Policy aims to:

- Enable the establishment of small-scale commercial and tourism businesses as a means of income, employment and economic development.
- Limit the scale of businesses to avoid detrimental impacts on the character and amenity of established residential neighbourhoods.

Diffusing plant essences workshop in Walpole

Christine Platten is one of the most experienced qualified Plant Essence Therapists in Australia and we are very lucky to have her living right here in Walpole. After having spent years of studying Plant Essences and researching the use of natural fragrance for wellbeing and healing, Christine founded the first College of Aromatherapy in Perth back in 1992.

For 29 years she practised Plant Essence Therapies including Reflexology, Bowen Therapy, Manual Lymph Drainage, Reiki, Crystal Therapy, Colour Therapy and the Hermetic Sciences. Christine is a Registered Spiritual PhytoEssencing Practitioner and Assistant Teacher.

In order to achieve harmony on all levels she believes she must work with nature in its purest form. This underlines her pledge to use only the finest botanicals in her work.

More recently, Christine's venture has transmuted from performing physical body work to delving more deeply into the arts associated with the aromatic realms, astrology and alchemy. She is creating and formulating plant essence blends for skincare, wellness products, contemplative and consciousness transforming oils, as well as botanical perfumes.

So book your spot for this amazing workshop happening at 5:30pm on Monday 11th September at the Walpole CRC. You will have the opportunity to play, learn and explore all about plant essences.

DRAFT REVISED LOCAL PLANNING POLICY NO. 44: EXEMPTIONS FROM DEVELOPMENT APPROVAL

Invitation for Public Comment

Local Planning Policy No. 44 identifies types of development that do not need planning approval (before a building permit).

On 15 August 2023 the Council adopted a draft revised Policy for public consultation. The draft revised Policy proposes to increase the range of development that does not need approval, particularly for minor and incidental works.

Types of development that are identified in the Policy and meet the standards specified will not need planning approval, removing one step in the approvals process and reducing 'red tape' for common types of development.

For some types of development a building permit may still be required – the Shire's Planning and Building staff are available to discuss how changes to this Policy relate to your project and advise on the approvals you will need before getting started.

Community feedback is invited on the draft revised policy, which can be viewed at www.yourdenmark.wa.gov.au or at the Shire's Administration office.

Comments can be made in writing by:

- Sending comments through the Shire's Your Denmark page
- Emailing us at enquiries@denmark.wa.gov.au
- Sending a letter to PO Box 183, Denmark WA 6333

Public consultation is open until Monday 25th September 2023.

Please note that any comments received may be included in a publicly available report to Council on this matter. For further information please contact Planning Services on telephone 9848 0313 or email enquiries@denmark.wa.gov.au
